

How do we increase the value of Environmental, Social and Corporate Governance by employing an holistic approach? Learn from Belize Natural Energy's proven results – a leader in the sector for over 14 years.

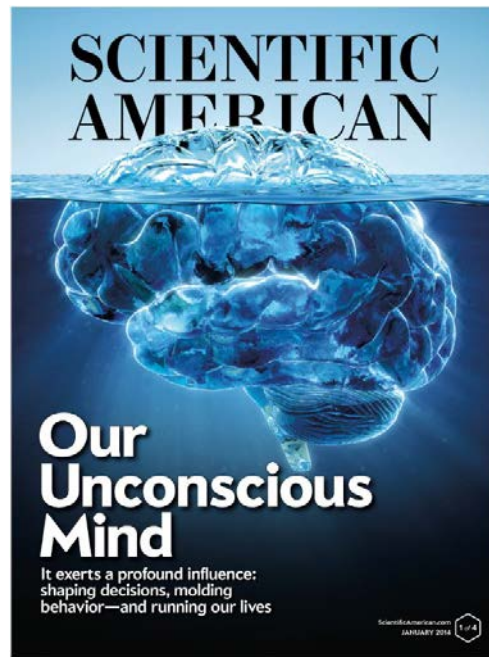

R Buckminster Fuller

“You can never change things by fighting the existing reality. To change something, build a new model that makes the existing model obsolete.”

Educogym Interview with Marlowe Neal - BNE CEO

Why is an holistic approach such as the Educo Model at the core of BNE so important in adding value?

- Innovation – new ideas even in the face of challenging times
- Unity – health, well-being, employees as ‘family’

- Collaboration – partnerships you cannot make happen but you make welcome such as BNE and the UAE

- A beacon to others – Worldwide Ambassadors; Virtual Tours creating connections and building resource networks

What is the cost of ignoring environmental, social, corporate governance issues through missed opportunity?

- No Investors
- No Top quality candidates
- Negative Public perception
- Decreased productivity

Holistic Model with ESG?

- Like-minded investors
- Right people attracted
- Leader of positive public image
- Increased productivity and happiness
- ‘Happy Song’

Dubai X-Jet case study:

- Virgin Airlines and others wishing to buy their way in
- X-jet founded on the Educo Business Model were invited in – the criteria for selection was not monetary value but the value of the Model on which the company was based and the clear, open energy of Josh Stewart, the Founder

Going beyond logic & measuring success beyond numbers

- Using conventional thinking and training only, BNE would never have drilled in the 500,000 acres where the oil was found - on the first strike

- Steve Jobs said of his journey with Apple:

“The people who are crazy enough to think they can change the world are the ones who do.”

“Your work is going to fill a large part of your life, and the only way to be truly satisfied is to do what you believe is great work. And the only way to do great work is to love what you do. If you haven’t found it yet, keep looking. Don’t settle. As with all matters of the heart, you’ll know when you find it.”

- Climb the corporate ladder but find your ladder is up against the wrong wall? So important to be on the right path.
